

Continuing a Dream

True to Kelly's dedicated spirit, the Foundation was established to assist young adults with a college education.

Cancer's impact is staggering and changes the course of thousands of lives every year. The mission of the KLL Scholarship Foundation is to provide financial assistance to eligible candidates, enabling them to pursue their dreams through a college education.

The KLL Scholarship opportunity is a $1,000 gift, renewable for up to a total of four years ($4,000 total maximum). Scholarships are awarded annually based on the following criteria:

- The loss of a parent (biological or non) to cancer before the age of 22.
- A US citizen.
- Attend a 2- or 4-year (minimum) higher education establishment.
- Have an interest in education, arts, math, science or the environment.
- Show service involvement in the community, church, school, or other non-curricular activity.
- Indicate financial need.
- Submit a completed application, including personal essay and reference.

Applications are due annually in January. For a full description of application requirements and dates, please visit www.kllscholarshipfund.com.

Questions may be submitted to info@kllscholarshipfund.com.

Of Hope and Love

Kelly's life and experience taught those close to her the importance of every minute... to keep loving, living, and learning, making the most of every day. Her story is one of hope that continues to inspire, even after her passing.

Kelly was a teacher by training; a hardworking stay at home mother for her two daughters; a strong supporter for her husband; a dedicated sister and loving daughter. She was one who tapped into her creative side to make things special for those around her.

From her earliest moments, Kelly sought to make the most of every situation. In birthdays and holidays to everyday thoughtfulness, she continuously delivered loving extras that had a lasting impact on so many.

Kelly was first diagnosed with breast cancer in December of 1998. She valiantly fought the disease and at times, appeared to have beaten it. Through it all she always had a smile, always had a good time, and always made the most of every moment. Her spirit and will to survive were an inspiration to all around her.

Her fight with cancer ended May 9, 2008. What she has left for her family and friends is a legacy of faith, hope and love, and a desire to help people live and learn after her passing.

One of the primary goals Kelly's family has for her Foundation is to provide financial assistance so young adults who have lost a parent to cancer may have the opportunity to obtain a college education.

The Lutz Family

Kelly fought cancer valiantly for more than 9 years, finally succumbing on May 9, 2008. Her loving family established the KLL Scholarship Foundation to continue the tremendous impact Kelly had on those around her. Through scholarship awards and support to other cancer survivors, we honor and remember the love she had for everyone around her.

A Lasting Spirit

The KLL Scholarship Foundation has made great strides and been overwhelmingly successful, but we still need your help! By either making a donation or simply encouraging a worthy candidate to apply, you can help further the spirit of this wonderful cause.

During Kelly's last few months, the community's outreach was amazing. It had become clear that she made a huge impact on all of those that knew her. In an attempt to somehow capture that amazing spirit, Kelly's family started the KLL Scholarship Foundation just days before she passed.

Her family understands first-hand just how hard it is to lose a loved one to cancer. As a result, they want to use the wonderful emotions of love and support that surrounded Kelly's life to help future generations.

Instant and secure electronic donations can be accepted via our P.O. Box or through the KLL Foundation website. The Foundation is a Non profit, 501(c)3 organization and can accept company matching gifts in addition to gifts through a will or trust. Please consult your tax advisor for the deductibility of your contribution.

You may also consider a recurring donation of any amount and frequency to extend the number of families we can help.
